Study Spaces

In the Sir Michael Cobham Library we offer different zones to meet your study needs.

For group work, we have social learning spaces on the ground and first floors. If you wish to work independently and quietly, levels two, three and four are silent study floors. If you need to collaborate on a presentation, you can use one of our Techno Booths. The Techno Booths and a selection of computers can be pre-booked using the myPC booking system on campus. Just ask at the Information Desk or use the links on the myBU Library tab.

We also have two study rooms with presentation facilities that are bookable via the Library Catalogue. Just search for the words 'study room' and you will have the option to reserve a time.

Wi-Fi and blue network sockets are available throughout the building if you wish to use your laptop. Printing, copying and audio visual facilities are also provided.
