

EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND QUALITY

Educational Development and Quality (EDQ) is responsible for the maintenance and development of the system and processes of academic quality assurance and enhancement throughout the University and its collaborative partnerships. To this end, EDQ:

- develops policy and procedures for the design, delivery, assessment and monitoring of academic programmes to assure standards and enhance the quality of provision
- provides resources to support curriculum design and enhance teaching, learning and assessment approaches
- provides support for professional development in education practice
- manages the University engagements with external quality assurance bodies

EDQ is a section of the Department of Academic Development Services within the Student and Academic Services (SAS) professional services directorate.
